

Wilco van Dijk

Professor Economic Psychology and Its Applications

Title.

The impact of financial stress
Wilco van Dijk (Leiden University)

Abstract.

In his seminar, Wilco van Dijk presents various lines of cross-sectional, longitudinal, and experimental research examining the impact of financial stress on people's lives. These studies provide valuable insights into the cognitive, emotional, and behavioral consequences of financial stress, shedding light on how they may contribute to poverty traps. Furthermore, the seminar addresses several behavioral interventions aimed at promoting financial wellbeing, accompanied by a discussion on their implications for public policy.