TEACHING AND EXAMINATION REGULATIONS (OER)

Part B: Bachelor's degree programme in History
ISAT 56034

for the academic year 2024-2025

Contents:

SECTION 1 GENERAL PROVISIONS

Article 1.1 – Applicability of the OER

These Regulations comprise two parts – Part A and Part B. This degree programme-specific Part B supplements Part A, which contains general stipulations for the teaching and examinations of the Bachelor's degree programmes taught at the Faculty of Arts, hereinafter referred to as the Faculty. Part B contains degree programme-specific provisions which apply to the degree programme in History.

SECTION 2 QUALIFICATIONS

Article 2.1 – Admission to the programme with profile requirement
Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 2.1. of Part A of these Teaching and Examination Regulations, the following supplementary requirements apply to this degree programme: N/A.

Article 2.2 – Educational deficiencies

1. Deficiencies in educational qualifications in the subjects listed below may be compensated for by passing the relevant examinations to the satisfaction of the Admissions Board at the level of: N/A
2. Under certain circumstances, the Admissions Board can request a university lecturer in the relevant subject to arrange one or more tests.

Article 2.3 – Language requirement for foreign certificates

In addition to Article 2.3 of Part A of this OER, in terms of the language requirements for this programme:

1. Students who have been admitted to a degree programme on the basis of a foreign certificate or degree may be required by the Admissions Board – before registration – to pass a Dutch language test if the student is admitted to the regular track, to be administered by an agency stipulated by the Board.
2. The Dutch language proficiency requirement (for the regular track) will in any event be met by passing the State Examination in Dutch as a Second Language (NT2-II).

Article 2.4 – Starting date

Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 2.7 of Part A, the following additional requirement applies to this degree programme:
Students who have previously been enrolled in this degree programme or who wish to start in a higher year may apply to the Admissions Board for permission to start on a date other than 1 September. The Admissions Board will grant permission for an alternative starting date if the specific course units that the student in question wishes to follow start on this date and if the student has satisfied the entry requirements for these course units.

SECTION 3   CONTENT AND STRUCTURE OF THE DEGREE PROGRAMME

Article 3.1 – Learning outcomes of the degree programme

Description of the Bachelor's level in accordance with the Dublin descriptors	Learning outcomes (of both the regular and international tracks) Bachelor's graduates in History must demonstrate:
1. Knowledge and understanding: Graduates have demonstrated knowledge and understanding in a field of study that builds upon and exceeds their secondary education, and is typically at a level that, whilst supported by advanced textbooks, includes some aspects that will be informed by knowledge of the forefront of their field of study.	1. a broad and well-balanced knowledge and understanding of the main points in the political, cultural, economic and social aspects of all historical periods, from Antiquity down to the present day 2. knowledge and understanding of the main current and historiographical developments in historical sciences with regard to themes, theory and methodology 3. knowledge and understanding of the local, national, regional, supraregional and international/global complexity, diversity and coherence of and in the past and the relationship between these factors and contemporary developments 4. knowledge, understanding and/or skills gained in a Faculty or University Minor for the purpose of following a further degree programme or starting a societal career after obtaining the Bachelor's degree in History

2. Applying knowledge and understanding: Graduates are able to apply their knowledge and understanding in a manner that indicates a professional approach to their job or profession, and have competences typically demonstrated through devising and sustaining arguments and solving problems within their field of study.	6. the ability to gather, select and organize literature and source material independently, efficiently and effectively, making use of the relevant bibliographical and IT skills
	7. the ability to formulate clear, relevant and empirically testable and/or answerable research questions taking into account the existing historiography (scholarly consensus)
	8. the ability to critically analyse historical-scientific texts and textual, visual, material, audiovisual and quantitative sources
	9. the ability to apply historical and interdisciplinary research methods and theories in a historiographical context to arrive at a well-founded analysis of historical issues
	10. the ability to write, present and defend a research report using the correct terminology with constant attention to style and argumentation, in line with the requirements of the historical sciences
	11. the ability to apply the historical knowledge and skills that are useful in a broad range of academic professions, whereby they must:
